NEW PLANS FOR HARBOR DEVELOPMENT RUSHED

ALLEGED ATTEMPTED ATTACK RESULTS IN WOMAN'S BEING SENT TO HOSPITAL FOR INSANITY PROBE

The CORE

Nine Nicaraguan rebels were killed by machine gun fire from a U. S. machine yesterday.

Enslay B. Smith, auditor of the First National Bank of Oakland was discharged yesterday by the board of directors on the ground that a $25,000 shortage had been discovered in his accounts.

Madame Ernestine Schumann-Heink, noted singer, is suffering from a nervous break-down, and her engagements have been cancelled.

Women of fashion will wear longer skirts next spring—fully one inch below the knee—according to an "ultimatum" delivered by the Garment Retailers' of America.

Fifteen bodies of members of the crew of the sunken submarine S-4 have been recovered by the eight divers engaged on the work.

The statesmanship of all America—north and south—excepting Canada will be concentrated in Havana Monday, when the sixth Pan-American conference will open in Havana.

A cargo of oil and crude rubber valued at $1,500,000 was practically destroyed in the hold of the Dollar liner President Polk at Jersey City yesterday.

Success Attends Revival Service

There was an increased attendance at the revival meeting conducted by Rev. George W. Forman at the Community Methodist church last night. The sermon last night, the fourth of the series, which Rev. Forman will deliver, "Obeyance to God Every Day", was based on Isaiah's Vision, "Behold and be willing to obey God." George Glinberg sang a solo, "Our Task" and was followed by an inspiring song service.

The topic tonight will be "Neglect and Its Tragedies". Special music will be rendered by Mrs. W. W. Chapin. Visitors are expected tomorrow night from Berkeley.

Officers Elected By Local DeMolay

Because the previous election of officers was declared to be illegal in accordance with the rules of the order, the Richmond chapter of DeMolay last night again held election of officers. Those chosen were: Lawrence Holland, master counsellor; Roy Anderson, senior counsellor; and Glen Dixon, junior counsellor. The remaining officers will be appointed within the next few days.

MAKING AUTO PAYMENTS EASY

If you wish to reduce the size of the payments you are making on your car, you can arrange to refinance the contract if your equity is sufficient to give ample security. The way to proceed is to frankly lay the cards on the table, state your situation exactly as it is. The Buyers Guide on the classified page will point the way.

Specifications Draft On Wharf Facilities To Be Submitted Feb. 1

The program of the Parr Terminal Company and the City of Richmond for the development of the inner harbor is fast taking shape.

H. J. Brunner, the San Francisco engineer, employed by the City of Richmond and the Parr interests was in Richmond yesterday morning, and spent the entire day at the water front and in conferring with city officials.

PLANS UNDER WAY

Brunner stated he had the preliminary plans for the new wharf and wharves to be constructed by the City of Richmond and Parr, about completed. He will submit them to the city officials and Parr, make whatever changes are necessary, and then put his force to work, preparing the final plans for the work. It is expected that Brunner will submit the complete plans and specifications for the new work for approval, about the first week in February. It will possibly take about two weeks for them to be gone over thoroughly, and then bids will be asked for the construction of the new structures.

AWARD BIDS APRIL 1

It is possible that bids will be awarded about April 1, and it will take nearly a year to complete the work. By that time all of the work on the inner harbor dredging will be completed, and large ships will be able to enter the inner harbor and unload their cargoes at two of the most modern wharves in the state. In the new units to be constructed, the City of Richmond will expend about $240,000, and the Parr interests will expend a like sum on a second unit of the same character.

Bebergal Speaks At Legion Meet

Former Department Adjutant Fred Bebergal will speak at the meeting of Richmond Post, No. 16, American Legion, tonight in Memorial Hall, C. W. W. St. John, commander announced yesterday. Bebergal is remembered here for his co-operation with the Richmond post, rendering fine service at the Santa Barbara convention. At this time he assisted the local and Contra Costa posts in uniting with the Alameda county posts. Bebergal is now chairman of the department community betterment commission. Bebergal conducted the installation service, at Concord last Thursday night, attended by the Richmond post.

St. John also announced that he has appointed the following members to serve on the Community Betterment Committee: Past Adjutant James T. Nabett, chairman, Past Commander Ruel S. Crose, W. M. Quaintance, J. E. Hill and L. T. Bolt. These members are requested to be present at tonight's meeting as important business will be announced. First reports on the membership drive being conducted will be made tonight. The campaign will end with initiation by radio February 29, when all the Legion posts in the state will take part.

The Catholic Aid Society of St. Paul's church will meet this evening at 8 p. m. at the church hall in San Pablo. As it is the first meeting of the year and there is much to be discussed, all members are urged to be present.

AUTO DEALERS SATISFIED IN BIG AUTO SHOW

By RAY PRIEST (Universal Service Automobile Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Automobile manufacturers started leaving for the west tonight satisfied that they have given the public more for their money this year than ever before.

It became apparent to the public early in December with the showing of the new Ford that there might be a change in the standard of value.

Automobile makers had already anticipated this trend. Their engineering departments had developed a better car and ways and means had been worked out for its production.

EARLY CHEVROLET DELIVERIES

Almost the first to announce it was ready with a new value was Chevrolet which started production on the newest models December 12. Dealers began getting deliveries December 15. When the Chevrolet was first shown to the public January 1, every dealer had cars on hand. Some even were ready to make deliveries.

Only in a very few locations in the United States have Ford deliveries been made.

Many of the other manufacturers had entirely new lines of cars developed. Dodge Brothers, came through early in December with the announcement that its Victory six was in production. This six priced around $1,000, proved a favorite of the public. The company also added four-wheel brakes without any additional cost. Thus giving greater value.

WHIPPET IMPROVED

John Willys improved his Whippet and lowered the price. W. C. Durant improved his Star-Four and lowered the price. Pontiac brought out a new line with many lower prices. Essex brought its prices all down below $800. Chrysler cut on the "52" and "62." Graham-Paige announced an $850 car. Virtually all gave more car, even if they did keep prices steady.

Trinity Lutheran Elects Officers

The following officers were elected to supervise the business affairs of the Trinity Episcopal church for the ensuing year: Dr. Wm. Lucas, senior warden; D. J. Dingle, clerk of the vestry; and Miss Katherine McCracken, treasurer. Members elected to the board of vestrymen were Dr. T. C. Campbell, Fred Hicks, Mrs. C. Young, Mrs. C. A. Troy, and Mrs. Laura Stanley.

Delegates elected to attend the Episcopalian convention to be held at Grace Cathedral in San Francisco January 31, and February 1, are as follows: Dr. W. S. Lucas, Dr. P. T. Campbell, E. F. Dingle and Rev. Milton R. Terry. The leaders to the house of church women are Mrs. C. A. Troy, Mrs. W. S. Lucas, Mrs. Mary Wilson, Mrs. S. Spierich, Mrs. M. R. Terry, and Miss Katherine McCracken.

HERE ON BUSINESS

Rev. Louis Stark of Antioch spent the day in Richmond yesterday, looking after property interests here.

Drawings For Span Fenders Submitted To U. S. War Dept

MARTINEZ, Jan. 11.—Working drawings for the fender system to be constructed about the center piers of the Carquinez Strait bridge of the American Toll Bridge Company to protect it from steamers, have been completed and have been submitted to the War Department for approval. George Calder, vice-president of the company, announced today. As soon as government approval of the plans has been secured construction will be started. Calder announced.

Shipping companies protested the type of fender system proposed by the bridge concern and the protests were made the subject of War Department hearings in Washington. The shipping firms demanded a protective system that would have cost double the amount of that projected by the bridge company. The War Department sustained the bridge firm's proposal but directed that working drawings be submitted to the department before construction.

Realty Board To Be Formed Here

Richmond realtors will convene in the chamber of commerce rooms tonight at 7 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Richmond Realty Board. Every realty broker in the city is urged to attend.

Wine Possession Charged To Man

Victor Suhor was arrested last night at his home on East Richmond avenue by Officer Smith. W. Legon, who charged that he found a quantity of wine in the man's possession. Suhor is in the city jail and will appear before Police Judge, C. A. Odell this morning for trial.

Probe Launched On Bus Line Activity

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 11.—As a second step in its drive to make auto stage companies toe the mark, the Railroad Commission yesterday instituted an investigation on its own motion into the practices of the California Transit company. Directing its attention toward the Napa-Vallejo line of the company, the commission purposes to investigate charges that the services being rendered is not provided for in the certificate of public convenience and necessity granted the corporation from which the California Transit company purchased the franchise.

Fire Causes Damage To Parked Machine

Fire believed to have been started by a cigarette dropped in the back seat last night caused small damage to a machine belonging to Scotty Welch, 635 Nevada avenue, while the car was parked at Seventh street and Nevada avenue. Chemical company No. 1 put out the blaze.

Rebel Who Defies Marines

COURAGE ENOUGH for self-destruction is indicated in the features of Gen. Augustine C. Sandino, Nicaraguan bandit chief who threatens to blow himself up with tons of dynamite if capture looms. His revolt has led to the greatest "peace time" losses in U. S. Marine annals.

Reprieve Helps Slayer To Dodge Chair Until Insurance Case Settled

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—Ruth Snyder was granted a stay of execution tonight.

She will not go to the electric chair shortly after 11 o'clock as scheduled tomorrow night.

Supreme Court Justice Levy gave Ruth a new lease on life when he ruled that Ruth's testimony was necessary in the forthcoming suit of the Prudential Life Insurance Company. The company is trying to invalidate the $97,000 policy it has issued on the life of Albert Snyder who was murdered by Ruth and Judd Gray.

Calder Elected President Of Big Contracting Firm

George Calder, vice-president of the American Toll Bridge Company and one of the best known bridge engineers in the west, has been elected president of the Duncan-Harrison contracting firm. The Duncan-Harrison Co. is widely known for the projects of magnitude it has undertaken in coast construction several of which are in Contra Costa County. The company's initial entry into this district was in construction work on the Siquine Strait and Antioch bridges. More recently it made the surveys for the South Pacific Railroad to determine the feasibility of constructing a span between Bullshead Point and Army Point. Calder became resident engineer of the American Toll Bridge Company when the Carquinez bridge project was conceived. On the death of Avian J. Hanford he was advanced to the post of vice-president and manager at the same time Oscar H. Klatt became president. Calder's selection as president of the contracting company extends recognition of his ability as a builder and executive.

GRAVE CHARGE PENDS AGAINST RICHMOND MAN

M. Carello of 226 Barrett avenue was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Frank Wilson on charges involving a local matron.

The woman, Mrs. E. Herrero, who is said to have gone raving mad because of the alleged attempted attack last Thursday, was committed for investigation to the county hospital in Martinez following the issuance of a warrant by justice of the Peace Arthur A. Alstrom.

SERIOUS CHARGE LOOMS

Present charges against the man include only that of disturbing the peace but Deputy Sheriff Wilson last night indicated that more serious charges will in all probability be lodged against Carello soon.

According to authorities, the man entered the home of Mrs. Herrero threatening her with a knife and attempting to rape her. The woman became hysterical and since last Thursday has had hallucinations of further attempts to attack her. She has refused all food and seems to be in a constant state of fear, according to neighbors.

UNABLE TO TALK

Because of her condition, insanity proceedings were started with the warrant sworn to and the woman held for observation. She has been unable to issue a concise statement of the attack and medical authorities at Martinez are waiting for a rational moment to secure a statement from her.

Carello will appear this morning before Justice Alstrom on the charge of disturbing the peace.

Plans Made For High-12 Club

The speakers at the initial meeting of the High Twelve club held last night in Hotel Carquinez were Charles Truman, international president of the High Twelve Clubs, Herbert Hood, district governor of California, and Fred Ocheltree, international trustee of the club. E. A. Martin who was chairman of the evening, was elected as temporary president of the club, and W. T. Helms, superintendent of the Richmond schools, was nominated as temporary secretary. Short talks were also given by presidents of the various High Twelve Clubs around the east bay.

The purpose of the meeting last night was to formulate a plan for the organization of a High Twelve Club in Richmond.

There were over forty members from the Berkeley and Oakland High Twelve clubs present also a representation from San Jose and about forty Richmond Masons, there being about eighty present in all. Scottish Rite Ball Is Well Attended Scottish Rite bodies from all over the east bay district last night attended the concert and ball given in the New Scottish Rite Temple in Oakland. A large representation from Richmond was present. Oakland-New Oakland Garage completed at a cost of $250,000.

ANOTHER DRAWBACK

We quite often hear through the press and some of our statesmen how much better off the south would be if it had two strong active political parties, instead of the present one-party system which paralyzes the south in a political sense and gives it less voice in the councils of the nation than it would otherwise have. This desire for two parties in the south is not voiced by northern newspapers. A number of prominent southern journals admit that the two party system would be much more desirable than the one in vogue at present.

But the Chattanooga Times recently pointed out a complication in the situation which is not often discussed. While admitting that the two party system is the ideal for the United States and that it has served the nation well, the Times continues:

"But the political parties of yesterday are no more. The primary converted them into mere labels and rendered them incapable of functioning effectively as agencies of government."

"To complete the reform it would be necessary to discard the disorganizing, demoralizing mischief-breeding primary, and adopt a nomination system that would enable the parties to put their best men forward as candidates, and hold them to well-defined and fundamental principles as declared in their platforms."

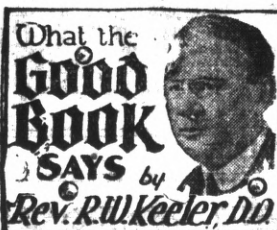

Commenting on this statement from the Times the Boston Transcript says:

"The Northern voter who chuckles over the existence of the primary because it destroys political parties might get a new and useful idea from this really menacing situation. Here is one of the finest and most fertile sections of the United States inhabited by some of the best Americans extant, actually incapable of securing for itself better government because it cannot shake off a discredited system of nominating candidates for public office. The primary was instituted in the honest belief that it would make for better government. Here we have a striking object lesson, on a large scale, demonstrating that its effect is just the opposite; and the solid south must stay solid, not for its own good, as once it may have thought but because its people are, under present conditions, unable to effect a most desirable political reform."

Evidently the drawbacks of the primary are not sectional but national. They are felt in the south with its one party as well as in the north.

Senator Dill says the thing for the democrats to do is to nominate a candidate for president who will be strong enough to carry a democratic congress and senate into power with him. Well, every democratic county chairman knows that much.

A SIMPLE MOUTH WASH

It is a wise person who uses his toothbrush regularly and simple mouth wash, like a weak salt solution. Do not use strong antiseptics in such solutions, as they will do as much harm to the tissues of the mouth as the germs in the air. Keep the teeth and mouth CLEAN.

Among the new sweaters is a pretty model of white sephyr striped in black and silver. The stripes are arranged in horizontal effect and rise in triangles at the side front.

AND THE WORST IS YET TO COME

What Your Body Tells

"SLOPPY" APPEARANCE MEANS NO BACKBONE

Would you employ a man who came to you stooped in a lazy fashion. There can only be one excuse for such posture as this—illness or old age. Both scientists and physicians tell us that birthdays make no difference; it is the body age, not the birth days that counts.

Many young men are old because of their attitudes, physical and mental. It all depends on the spine and what you do with it. This crooked spine low chest and bent knees portray an individual lacking in will power. Can there be any force to this posture? These are certainly the marks of a weakling, and it does not take a finished character analyst to recognize it. His character is as weak as his knees.

You couldn't hire this fellow to join the local cadet companies or do any drilling. It would be too much trouble for him to stand in a military pose. The fellow who stands in this fashion is utterly lacking in power, get, force, determination. One of his outstanding traits is self-pity. He prefers depending for his living on any relative rather than dragging for himself.

He follows the line of least resistance. He's a Rip Van Winkle mentally; the world passes by him while he sleeps.

GOOD MANNERS

Q. When sending Christmas greetings to very close friends or relatives, how should the cards be signed? We are a young couple and feel that the prefix "Mr. and Mrs." sounds a bit too formal to use with intimate friends.

A. Cards sent to intimate friends and relatives should be signed with your Christian names—say "Harriet and James." To formal acquaintances the signature should be, for example, "Mr. and Mrs. James Ray."

Q. In inviting house guests is it necessary for a hostess to suggest the day of arrival and mention the length of time for which they are invited?

A. Yes. Such a time limitation is not rudeness but, on the contrary, politeness for both the guest and hostess can plan accordingly without any possible chance of misunderstanding or embarrassment.

THE FRICTION BATH—I have met a number of people who have never heard of the friction bath. They know what friction means, but they think it applies only to machinery or to an argument. It has never occurred to them that rubbing might be helpful to the skin. We are so far removed from the good old days when we went naked or nearly so and rubbed up against trees, bushes, stones and other things in our daily peregrinations that we have forgotten the value of skin friction.

In these days the skin is so constantly protected by the clothing that it seldom gets any friction except when we use a towel after a bath. Even then some beautiful ladies insist on a very soft towel and they dry the skin by patting because they imagine their skin is too delicate for harsh rubbing. If they never rub the skin it certainly will become very delicate, but if they use friction intelligently they will find that their skin will become smoother, softer, stronger and more flexible and healthy. The proper way to take this bath is as follows:

First remove all clothing in a moderately warm room so as to get the benefit of the air as well as the friction. Then with one hand rub the other arm vigorously from wrist to shoulder. Do the same with the other arm. Then using both hands rub each foot and leg from the sole all the way up to the hip. Now rub the chest, the abdomen and the back. The abdomen should be rubbed with a circular motion from right to left. The back may be rubbed in any manner that is most convenient.

Affairs of the Heart and Your Marriage Problems

Patricia Lee

Patricia Lee answers questions relating to problems of married life. Names and address should be added to letters as a mark of good faith but will not be published. Readers who desire private answers should enclose a stamped self-addressed envelope and 10 cents in coin to cover cost of typing, etc. Because of space limitations it is not possible to print answers to all letters received, and readers who wish an early reply should take advantage of this special service. On account of the large quantity of mail coming to this department, about ten days should be allowed for a reply. Write to Patricia Lee, care of this paper.

It is quite as easy to say the pleasant, kindly things as it is to expect the one you love to "take for granted" the thought that is in your mind. Yes, quite, and much more satisfactory.

It is true that there are some folk so constituted that they seem to freeze up inside when they attempt to express their feelings, and others, too, that try to hide any demonstration of their affection. Not that I'd have you continually verbally making love! But that happy medium of saying the sweet thing. Instead of letting your husband or wife surmise it, of giving an understanding smile whenever it is possible of including your partner in your thoughts even on what would appear to be things far removed from love or family interests—that is the thing that makes for a happy, sympathetic, understanding joyous home!

Letter after letter comes to me in which the wife complains (and rightly) that her husband doesn't say the things to her that he did to please her before they were married. It seems to be rather a common failing with men. But a great, great many women forget, too, that a man likes just the sort of affection that is expressed by a word, a look, a smile.

Dear Patricia Lee: My husband is the best man that ever lived. We have been married three years and we are very happy. There is only one thing that worries me and that is he doesn't say the things to me he doesn't say the way he used to before we were married. He used to write me the loveliest letters, too—LOUISE H.

Do you remember to say the lovely things to him that you said before you were married? I hope so, because there is nothing that will encourage him more and make him more happy than that. Then, too, it is the surest way to make him reciprocate.

My Dear Miss Lee:

We have been married four years and from the very beginning my husband's mother has caused trouble between us. She is jealous of me I know, and she thinks that I have too much influence over my husband. Every time we have any sort of an argument it is always about her. I think we ought to live by ourselves and know that even if we couldn't have the things that she gives us we could be much better off—GRACE M.

You are quite right, dear, you would be much better off living with just your husband and my advice to you is to try your hardest to make your husband see that, too. Maybe if you were not living with your mother-in-law she would not feel so keenly, either, the fact that you have more influence over your husband than she has. Of course, there is no use in reminding you that she has a great affection and claim on her son and that you should try to appreciate that angle of the situation and make things agreeable. Try for a place of your own, though, and I wish you luck.

Vigorous Health

THE FRICTION BATH—I have met a number of people who have never heard of the friction bath. They know what friction means, but they think it applies only to machinery or to an argument. ## BEWARE OF MARRIED MEN BY ARLINE DE HAAS

Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures Inc. "BEWARE OF MARRIED MEN," starring Irene Rich, is a Warner Pictures production of this novel.

SYNOPSIS

Myra Martin, secretary to Leonard Gilbert, a divorce lawyer to whom she is engaged, discovers that her younger sister, Helen, has become infatuated with Huntley Sheldon, a wealthy Don Juan whose wife, Nina, is making a fourth attempt to divorce him. Myra locks Helen in her room, disguises herself, and goes to Sheldon's hunting lodge to ask him to give up his sister. Sheldon, recognizing Myra, pretends a heart attack, forcing her to remain with him all night. Next morning Mrs. Sheldon arrives, but Myra escapes without being identified. Meantime, Helen elopes with Ralph Naylor. Myra, afraid to tell Leonard of her adventure, sounds him out.

CHAPTER X—Continued

For a moment Myra's heart stood still. Suppose Leonard ever found out about her escape. She steadied herself against the side of the desk. "Who—who do you think is to blame in this case?" Actually she didn't want to discuss the matter, but she was irresistibly drawn towards the danger that seemed to threaten.

"O, I don't know for certain. I've never heard Evans' story in detail, at all. But certainly the woman who made off with him must have known that she was taking him away from another woman and breaking up what I suppose was a fairly happy sort of home. That's what I don't get. There are plenty of men in the world without going after one who's already taken."

"Perhaps, Leonard," Myra argued, "you're looking at these matters from the wrong point of view. Suppose the 'other woman,' as you call her, happens to be in love with the man."

"Isn't his wife in love with him, too? Surely that counts for something. Suppose that after we are married, another woman comes along."

"Leonard! Please! Don't suggest such a thing. I couldn't stand it."

"Well, there you are. Other women feel that same way about it. I know. I didn't mean just exactly that. I was just thinking that often it wasn't the 'other woman' who started the affair. It might have been the man, you know. Perhaps you see only one side of the case. As a matter of fact you know as well as I do that a lot of the men who come in here to see about divorces are only too willing to flirt with me—invite me to dinner—start another affair all over again, before the last is even cold."

"Certainly, but you don't go out with them—at least I've never known you to. You see, it takes two to make a bargain. It's not so hard to discourage a man—if you really want to."

"That's perfectly true, but what about—about people like Huntley Sheldon, who is constantly running after any other woman than his wife?" The name had slipped out unconsciously. Myra would have given anything to have taken back her words, but she couldn't now, and the best thing to do was to continue. "He'd be a very hard person to discourage, I imagine, if he'd ever set his mind on any one. Of course, I suppose in his case he has a great many women interested in him. So he's not a very good example. But other men who have not his attractions—certainly they must do a large share of the running."

"Yes, but you're getting away from the point of the argument," Leonard insisted. "As I said before, it takes two to make a bargain, and the 'other woman' is the other half of the bargain. If she weren't, we'd have fewer divorces made, and I'd probably be a struggling young lawyer arguing corporation law." He laughed.

"Yes, but suppose the 'other woman' got tired of quite by mistake, you know—didn't realize what was happening or know what she was doing?" Myra put the question timidly, but she felt that she had to find out—must find out—quickly.

"Blah!" Gilbert scoffed. "That's a lot of nonsense. No woman with any intelligence whatsoever could be made a fool of that way. Besides, there are enough correspondents who, for a consideration, are willing to be known as 'Miss X' in the proceedings."

Myra's heart sank. Of course Leonard couldn't possibly understand. How could she had been to decide not to mention anything to him. He wouldn't have believed her story, feeling as he did about these matters. He'd as much as said so then. But this was terrible, this weight that overpowered her, yet she must go on, talking, thinking, acting, shielding herself, making no false steps.

"But—but suppose I should get mixed up in something of that sort—would you blame me for taking the man in question away from his wife?"

Gilbert laughed. "That's really funny, Myra." He reached out his hand and caught hers. "No, I can never imagine you ever becoming involved in such a mix-up. You're so entirely different from other women." He patted her hand tenderly.

Myra held on to the desk tightly until the knuckles of her hand looked white and knobby. Yes, that was just what she had expected of Leonard. He would feel that way about her. It would take much to make him believe anything against her, but if he were confronted with bare facts—proof, then—

"What's the matter—cold?" Gilbert looked up at the girl beside him.

"Oh, no—no," Myra smiled, "but—"

The phone rang. Gilbert picked up the receiver and answered it. He waited for a moment. Then he turned to Myra.

"It's the New York call I've been expecting, dear. Will you see that I'm not disturbed?"

"All right," Myra fed back to her own office with a sense of relief. She sank weakly into her chair, and remained there, trembling on the desk with the tips of her fingers. Her hands were cold, and visibly trembling. What an awful morning. Was this sort of thing to go on for the rest of her life? Being haunted by strange fears, a prey to every kind of trend of conversation that had any bearing on the situation. Almost better to have the whole thing out and over with than to go about with a shadow dogging your footsteps.

She looked forward to the cupped in her hands, her elbows resting on the desk. Once more she felt sick. That was all the sensation she seemed to have left, any more. Sickness from fright, from the knowledge that the tip of her nose was now close to the edge of the desk, and she was too close to the edge of the desk to run the risk of losing him because of something that had, in a sense, no reality.

Why, oh, why had Helen been so foolish—so silly, and not listened to her. For a moment she could almost have hated her sister for bringing this upon her. But the mood passed quickly when she remembered, with shame, how she had herself been duped and tricked. But trick or no trick, she must try to keep her head about her, and not run into any more danger. Perhaps she was only working herself up to this pitch of fear. After all, was there any real danger if she stuck to her resolution, kept her shadow at bay, and said nothing more about Mr. Huntley Sheldon?

Of course, suppose his wife had found out who she was—her name. Perhaps that terrible detective person had found it out. Oh, but surely Sheldon wouldn't tell them, and there was no one else there who could possibly know. But suppose she some day met Mrs. Sheldon on the street. Suppose the woman should recognize her. Could she recognize her again? This was getting worse and worse. She was allowing herself to become almost hysterical. This would never do. She lectured herself severely, and told herself that she would probably never see Mrs. Sheldon again, and even if she did it would be some time later, and the woman would have completely forgotten that morning at the lodge. Now she felt a little calmer, and she smiled at herself. Everything would come out all right.

As she turned to her desk and began to get out the papers for her morning's work, the door to her office opened. She looked up brightly, a cheerful "good morning" on her lips. Then her words fell dead; her eyes were staring, staring. She couldn't take them away from that door. For there, sweeping into the room, came Mrs. Nina Sheldon, followed by her husband, shadowed at red-faced and snick-eyed. Both.

WILL COST $500,000

The permanent fender system, it was announced today, estimated to cost more than $500,000 will be a rock filled around a pier cluster, in which 20 by 20 inch concrete piles will be driven. Some of these piles will be vertical and some inclined to support the superstructure or fender proper. This will be a heavy reinforced concrete deck, ribbed with girders and beams, both circumferentially and radially, whose shape will be a pointed ellipse. The points will be up and down stream to deflect the prow of vessels that might strike the central pier section. A protecting system of three lines of steel rails will also encircle the structure. The fender will be monolithic in type with four cylinder piers held rigidly together.

SIPHON PROTECT

Plans for the system were devised by Calder, Professor Charles Derleth of the University of California and F. G. White and H. E. Squire of the State Harbor Commission.

School nurse, says all girls should know this

TALKING to a roomful of high school girls on personal hygiene, an experienced district nurse said: "One of the basic rules of health for girls is to keep the system functioning naturally at all times. Normal exercise and diet habits should be encouraged. But when necessary there's no harm in taking nujol, since it works mechanically and can't disturb the normal functions of any organ of the body. Particularly with girls, there are times when nujol should always be taken. Take a spoonful every night for a few days. It's a thoroughly safe and harmless method. It won't cause distress or gas pains or griping. Nujol is different from any other substance. It contains no drugs or medicine. It can be taken safely no matter how you are feeling because it is so pure and harmless. And works so easily. Every woman should keep a bottle on hand. Every druggist has this remarkable substance. Get the genuine.

DRAMATIC FILM HOLDS BOARDS AT CALIFORNIA

A tense and highly dramatic story, marked by splendid direction and some remarkable well-drawn characterizations makes "The Crystal Cup" the first National picture, which opened last night at the California Theatre, one of the outstanding film productions of the year.

Based on the daring novel of the same name by Gertrude Atherton, "The Crystal Cup" is probably one of the most unusual stories ever filmed. Its basic plot motif concerns a sensitive, impressionable girl, who goes through a terrible experience early in her life, and who is so deeply impressed and frightened by it that her influence never completely leaves her.

Dorothy Mackail in the featured feminine role gives a performance of unusual depth and sincerity. She has never been seen on the screen to better advantage.

Jack Mulhall, in the opposite role, gives a well modulated performance of a wholly dramatic nature, in direct contrast to the many humorous roles he has played lately, demonstrating definitely the remarkable versatility which is his.

Rockliffe Fellows, Jane Winston, Edith Chapmann and Clarissa Selwynne deserve mention for their work in prominent supporting roles.

"The Crystal Cup" was produced for First National Pictures by Henry Hobart and directed by J. Francis Dillon.

Other features on the same program include "A Close Shave," a Tuxedo comedy; "Treasure Chest," a scenic novelty; and current news events.

MYSTERY FILM DELIGHTS MANY AT RICHMOND

Lee Schumway, a member of the all-star cast in Roland West's production, "The Bat," now playing at the Richmond, is a youth aspired to become a doctor or an electrical engineer, his father, a member of a distinguished family, wanted his son to carry on the traditions and go on the stage. Schumway obeyed his parent and has never regretted it.

Born in Salt Lake City, Schumway had his first experience as a Theatrical while in school. Knowing the Schumways as actors, the students elected Lee to organize the school company and play the leading roles. He did, but still insisted he'd rather make his living as the role of engineer or physician. After graduation came an offer to appear in a stock company, and Lee forgot his earlier ambitions. He wanted to become an actor as his grand father, who carried Maude Adams on the stage in Salt Lake City when the future star was only a few months old.

More than fifteen years stage experience preceded Lee Schumway's entry into motion pictures. His first screen work was with the old Lubin company about 12 years ago. Then followed important roles in Vitaphone, Universal, Fox, Paramount and other pictures.

Schumway was leading man for Jewel Carmen when she was a Fox star. Miss Carmen is one of the eminent players in "The Bat." Other film features include "High Sea Blues," a Al St. John comedy; and current news events.

The topic of his address was: "South Africa—Today and Tomorrow."

A ten minute discussion of the Greater California movement was given by L. A. Mowrey of Oakland. The attendance prize was awarded to Frank Pedro and Bert Scoble sang several solos. John Regillo was chairman of the day.

"BLACK HAND" IS BROKEN UP BY MUSSOLINI

TERMINI IMERSE, Sicily, Jan. 11.—The notorious gang of Sicilians bandits known as the "black hand," or Mafia, who have terrorized Italians at home and abroad for a generation, is finally broken up and 213 members sent to prison for terms that total more than 2,000 years.
After 72 hours confinement in the jury room at the little court house here the jury announced its verdict Tuesday night. The case was one of the longest and most difficult in Italian legal history.
The sinister activities of the Mafia held Italy's island in a grip of terror until the advent to power of Premier Mussolini. The immediate cause of the trial was the mysterious killing of two peasants in November, 1922 and the subsequent explosion of two sticks of dynamite near the house of their relatives.
The trial lasted for two months and more than 500 witnesses were heard.
Seven men were condemned to life imprisonment; eight received thirty years each; three were condemned to 25 years each on one of the barren island off the coast; eight were acquitted. The rest received sentences varying from 3 to 23 years each.

When you shop in a big city

You know your Fifth Avenue perhaps. Or all your life you've been familiar with the shopping sections of Boston—you are certain just which side street to turn into for the specialty store you have in mind... But these days, you'll find yourself at home wherever you shop. You'll not be at a loss to get exactly what you want in St. Louis or Seattle or Syracuse.

When you buy advertised products, you can buy just as wisely and do just as well — wherever you go—as you would if you went into the store on Main street at home, where your mother and your grandmother have traded for years. For you can trust advertised products and the stores that sell them, exactly as you would believe merchants who have been your lifelong friends in the same small town.

Read the advertisements in this paper—especially if you are a stranger in town. They will guide and befriend your buying.

LAWYERS PLEAD FOR LIVES OF RUTH AND JUDD

(By Universal Service)
OSSINING, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Last minute plans by lawyers to stay the executioner's hand filled the last full day of allotted life of Mrs. Ruth Snyder and Henry Judd Gray.

Although the lawyers were feverishly active, the prisoners themselves showed only apathy. Mrs. Snyder remained in bed all day, refusing food almost entirely. Gray read his Bible, ate normally but without apparent pleasure, and waited quietly for the end.

NEITHER CONCERNED
Both prisoners learned from newspapers that Governor Smith had denied their plea for a stay of execution, but neither showed any great emotion. Earlier, Warden Lawes had said that the prisoners had seemed that their plea had proved futile and that the news would be no surprise to them.

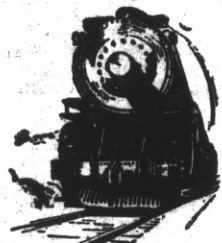

Mrs. Snyder had three visitors today, but only one of them, her brother, Andrew Brown, was admitted. The two excluded were the chaplain of the Queens county jail, who converted Mrs. Snyder to Catholicism, and a Salvation Army woman prison worker. They both came at the invitation of Mrs. Snyder and the Salvation Army worker was armed with a court order, but Warden Lawes adhered to the rule of relatives only.

Mrs. Snyder's brother was with her for almost an hour, but the nature of their conversation was not revealed.

MOTHER VISITS
Gray was visited by his mother and Samuel Miller, his chief of counsel, who announced before leaving New York that he planned to make one last court move in an attempt to save his client. The move, he let it be understood, would be an application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Mrs. Snyder's three lawyers, Edgar F. Hazleton, Dana Wallace and Joseph Lonnard conferred in Jamaica all afternoon and then Lonnard left for Ossining with the application for a writ of habeas corpus to be presented to the Federal Court for Mrs. Snyder to sign.

Lonnard was given a letter to Warden Lawes signed by the other two attorneys, asking that he be permitted to see Mrs. Snyder.

and that a notary public be furnished him.

In a formal statement issued after the conference it was made plain that Hazelton did not approve of the move for a writ, even though he consented to the others making it.

EXECUTION TONIGHT

The writs for both prisoners were to be asked on the ground that their constitutional rights had been violated when they were tried jointly.

Miller asserted in addition to this, that he had important new evidence.

The time for the execution has been set at 11 o'clock tomorrow night and all necessary preparations have been made. Although it had not yet been announced which of the murderers of the woman prisoner's husband would go to the chair first, it generally was believed that Mrs. Snyder would precede Gray. Warden Lawes announced that Mrs. Snyder would be accompanied to the death chamber by two matrons, who would remain with her until the end.

Other occupants of the death chamber will be two prison doctors, Warden Lawes and Chief Keeper Sheehy. Electrocutioner Robert Elliott and twenty newspapermen who will also act as official witnesses.

NEW PROBE TO FIND FORGERS OF DOCUMENTS

By FRASER EDWARDS
(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—A determined effort to establish the identity of the forgers of the Mexican documents published in the Hearst newspapers and bring them to justice was promised today by the special investigating committee, in an official report to the senate declaring the documents spurious and exonerating the four senators mentioned in them.

In making the partial report, Chairman David A. Reed of Pennsylvania, asked the senate to continue the powers of the committee until it has opportunity to run down a number of clues that may lead to apprehension of the man or men who fabricated the documents. His request was granted tacitly.

At the same time, Reed announced that the committee had thus far been unable to "determine to its satisfaction the identity of the manufacturers of these spurious documents, and has no witnesses now under subpoena from which such information is likely to be obtained."

SURVEY PLANNED

A complete survey of the whole field of the committee investigation will be submitted in a final report, Reed announced. The question of whether the special committee or the foreign relations committee will dig into the facts behind the documents remains to be determined. Many senators favor such an investigation.

The committee, composed of Senators Reed, Pennsylvania; Jones, Washington; Johnson, California; Republicans, and Robinson of Arkansas and Bruce, Maryland, Democrats, unanimously reported that:

"1. There is not a scintilla of evidence that any United States senator has accepted, or was offered, directly or indirectly, any money or other valuable thing, by any officer or representative of the government, of Mexico.
"2. The pretended evidence that $125,000 was withdrawn from the Mexican treasury and sent to the Mexican Consul General in New York City to be paid to United States Senators is not genuine, but is spurious and fraudulent, and in so far as it purports to be signed by the president of Mexico or the Secretary of the Treasury of Mexico, it is forged."

The body of the report was a straightforward review of the evidence taken by the committee, setting forth the manner in which the documents came into the possession of William Randolph Hearst and his efforts to establish their authenticity before publication was begun. It offered no criticism of Mr. Hearst, who told the committee that he believed it his patriotic duty to publish the documents.

HEARST SCORED

On the senate floor, however, Senator Reed declared that in dealing with the reputations of four senators it was incumbent upon Mr. Hearst to "exhaust every effort to establish the genuineness of the documents before printing them" and expressed the belief that "he did not exhaust every effort," but "turned the matter over to two trusted editors."

Practically the same opinion was voiced by Senator Robinson, who said:
"I think a fair construction of the record disclosed beyond a shadow of doubt that while Mr. Hearst believed the documents to be genuine, there was no such investigation made of them as their nature and the purpose of publishing them, if genuine, required."

The report brought out clearly that Mr. Hearst in presenting the original documents to the committee had stated that he had no evidence tending to show the payment of money to any of the senators and his personal conviction that none of the senators had received money from the Mexican government. The denials of all four senators also were cited.

HICKMAN WILL GO ON TRIAL "AS OF AGE"

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 11.—One more chance to escape the noose for the kidnapping and slaying of Marion Parker, was ended for William Edward Hickman late today when Juvenile Court Judge Scott dismissed a petition filed last summer making him a ward of the juvenile court.

This ends Hickman's claim that he is a minor. He is now eligible for trial in superior court, and on conviction for the murder on which he stands indicted, he can be hanged.

Hickman was taken to court at 2 o'clock under heavy guard. Few spectators were present as his appearance in juvenile court was not expected by the public.

BATTLE ON

State and defense attorneys staged a battle today in Hickman's cell. Dr. O. R. Shelton, hired by the defense was with Hickman when Dr. Herman Schorr and Dr. Paul Bowers, State psychiatrists, arrived.

Dr. Shelton informed the State doctors that Hickman refused to be tested by the State psychiatrists, and, further, that it would require three days for him to finish his examination.

Doctors Schorr and Bowers conferred with District Attorney Asa M. Keyes and Dr. Benjamin Blank county jail physician. Thereupon Dr. Blank went to Shelton, who was continuing to interview Hickman, and announced that either the State attorneys would examine Hickman or else Shelton would not be allowed to.

Dr. Shelton said that he would induce Hickman to submit to the State's examination.

CITY LEAGUE GAMES RESUME THIS EVENING

The Mechanics Banker quintet, still far down in the cellar without a win to their credit, will meet the LaMoine Druggists tonight at the Junior High School gymnasium. In the second game of the evening the Ben Malik team will mix with the Santa Fe Tie Walkers, whose record this season is not so good but whose playing and team-work is going up the ladder every game.

The Bankers, in our estimation, don't give a darn whether they win or not; they're in for the sake of the game and have just as good a time losing as others do winning. Tonight they may pull the improbable and defeat the Druggists, whose team-work against the Stringer Smoke House Gang last Monday was nothing to broadcast about.

Ben Malik's leaders in the field of quality, style and value, or what we are offered, still hug third position and are rated to win over the Tie Walkers tonight.

On Monday night "Doc" Seawright stated yesterday, the McRacken quintet will try to defeat the Stringer squad. The verb is correctly used in that last sentence. They will try, but nine chances out of ten point to a victory for the Smoke House. It was reported in betting circles here that the odds on the game is three Old Golds to two Camels. This statement has not been verified but is offered to you for what it's worth.

The Y. M. C. team of Oakland, is scheduled to meet the Ben Malik cagers in the first game. Little is known of the Oakland bunch.

The second game, according to Seawright will be staged between the Santa Fe Tie Walkers and the Southern Pacific Apprentice club team of Sacramento.

Boston Braves Acquire Roger Hornsby From N. Y. Giants

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Mr. Rogers Hornsby is rapidly gaining a reputation of being a very much unwanted baseball player, whether reputation is deserved or not.

Mr. Hornsby was traded by the New York Giants yesterday, to the Boston Braves. Sam Breadon, owner of the St. Louis Cardinals got rid of him the season after he had led the Cards to a world championship.

Further light on the situation in New York which led to the trading of the star second sacker to the mediocre Boston club, for a couple of ordinary players, was given here today by Freddie Lindstrom, also a star of the Giants, and who very ably holds down the third sack on the same club.

Freddie is of the opinion that disputes between McGraw and Hornsby, about who was running the team, may have led to the trading of the star.

"Hornsby wanted no one on the team he could not dominate," Lindstrom said. "He was dictatorial and tried to tell some of the players how to play ball."

"On the field we played the game together, and did the best we could, but off the field it was entirely a different story, if you get what I mean."

"I was one of the players who did not get along well with Hornsby. Grimes was another and

Golden Bears' Return Game Depends Upon Cal. Faculty

BERKELEY, Jan. 11.—Whether the University of California journey east to play a football game with the University of Pennsylvania at Philadelphia in 1929 depends entirely upon the attitude of the President and faculty of the university, W. W. Monahan, graduate manager, made clear today.

Commenting upon reports that Ernest B. Cozens, graduate manager at Pennsylvania had dispatched a formal invitation through the mails, Monahan said that since the first California-Pennsylvania game here in 1925, an unofficial standing invitation had existed for the Bears to go East.

Monahan pointed out, however, that all trips are subject to the approval of the president of the university, and satisfactory guarantees that the scholarship of the players would not suffer would have to be made before such a trip would be considered by either the Associated Students Executive committee of the University administration. The fact that the California Glee Club took sixteen days out of the spring semester in 1927 to make a tour of eastern cities and compete in the national intercollegiate glee club sing in New York must not be regarded as an indication that a trip by the football team to Philadelphia, even under strict training rules and for a lesser period of time, would be approved.

The invitation which eastern dispatches announce is on the way to Berkeley follows close upon the second football game played here in three years between the Bears and Quakers. California won both contests.

Alumni in the east, who have been active in supporting the trips of the track teams to the C. A. meets and the crews to Foughkeepsie regattas, have for some time wished the football team to play a game on the Atlantic seaboard. Such a contest would have to be played in the regular season, due to climatic conditions, and this would involve time out from studies. So far this objection has always prevailed.

Roush another."

Whether he knew anymore who did not get along with Rogers, or not he did not say. But he stated in no uncertain terms that Hornsby had attempted to have him traded to some other club on more than one occasion. Simply because Lindstrom was taking orders from John McGraw and no one else.

"Hornsby started in on me at the training camp," Freddie added. "He criticized my fielding. That struck me as funny, especially after I had figured out my fielding averages. I replied that he shouldn't talk. As soon as he quit hitting them he was through. Believe me that trade is a great thing for the Giants."

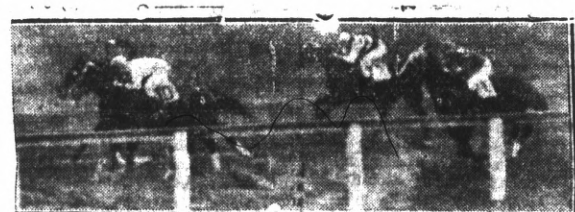

All of which means, that Mr. Hornsby may be a great player but he hasn't got it.

Champ On Mat In Sensational Moment Of Bout

FOR ONE MINUTE (the first sixty seconds of the fight) Leo Lomski, the Aberdeen Assassin, seemed to have a firm clutch on the light heavyweight title held by Tommy Loughran, when he toppled champion onto the canvas twice for counts of nine with 2 looping right hooks which slashed over Tommy's usually punch-proof defense, denting his chin, in the fifteen-round bout at Madison Square Garden Friday night, won by the champion, Loughran had Lomski under complete control from the second heat on, except for a few spurts which enabled Leo to garner four with liberal scoring. The rest were Loughran's.

Right On The Nose

Black Gold will not go post-ward again. The great son of Black Toney, which is owned by Mrs. Hoots, pulled up very lame after the running of the Christmas Handicap at Jefferson Park, and reports from that point say he is done with the old racket of racing.

The popular "Black Streak" had attempted to make a comeback after taking things easy for three years. It was a mighty tough assignment, but he had shown some remarkable progress in his prep, that his trainer took the gamble, and, of course, finished in the also-ran column.

In all, his program consisted of three starts, and on each occasion he failed to make any impression, although I thought he might improve after his first outing. The beginning of the end for Black Gold came in his second start, in which he pulled up decidedly lame. Just why he was sent back in the Christmas Handicap is hard to fathom.

At his best, Black Gold would have toyed with the crowd he was pitted against, this despite the fact Eca Rocket equaled the track record in winning the event, for Black Gold was literally a streak when he was in his prime. The dear old dope will hear out this statement.

I see where Rip Rap blew another decision. This time Moonraker took his measures at Tia Juana by a half a length. Ploving decisions doesn't mean a thing to this sucker horse. There's no telling how much of the public's dough he has burned to date.

About a year ago, if you recall Rip Rap was touted as the Kentucky Derby winner. The boys took him like he was a Man of War in the winter books and although he turned to be an awful stiff in that classic, the boys continued to take him. Whether it's the name of Rip Rap that attracts the attention of the players I don't know. Surely he has disappointed enough to convince the players that he is nothing but a plaster and a sucker at that.

Rip Rap unquestionably will take a stab at the Cofferth in March. He's been backed down to about 60 to 1 in the winter books. I may be all wet, but I make the hazard now if he goes he will not finish one, two or sixteen. There will be too much class staring him in the face in the big Tia Juana stake, and of Fresno.

The outstanding feature of the Jefferson Park meeting is the sudden improvement of Sea Rocket, 4 year old son of Sea Rocket, Edna Maria. He is owned by C. A. Coyle. To win the Christmas Handicap from Justice F. and Marceloni Sea Rocket displayed class aplenty.

S. O. Pinmen In Oakland Matches

The Standard Oil Shipping Department bowling team won two points from the H. G. Prince Company of Oakland, this win leaving them still in a third place. A victory over the United Iron Workers this week will advance the oil team in the first place division.

High scores were rolled by L. Fayer, with 495; J. DeBaere, 513; K. Weststone, 543; P. Buttishach, 520; J. Murray, 499.

All of these bowlers are bowling in the "Examiner" bowling tournament and are expected to rank high in the finals.

Keystones Score Over Crockett

The Keystone cagers last night snowed under the Crockett quintet in a one-sided game held in Roosevelt Junior high school. The score was 35 to 0, in favor of the local team, which managed to keep the ball in their own territory throughout the game.

Rhodes, Engleman and Craig were stars for the Keystones and Davis did good work for the Crockett team.

Claims Blood From Split Eye Proved Big Handicap

By Leo Lomski

I just want to get another fight with Tommy Loughran and we'll see who is the best fighter in the division he rules.

I'm not peeved or bitter at the decision, but I KNOW that I can beat him. I showed them in the first round what I could do and the next time he won't get up at nine. I'll put him down for keeps.

I'll tell you how I lost the fight and why I slowed down in the last five rounds.

The last pace in the early rounds didn't hurt my speed in the last five rounds, but about the eleventh round Loughran paralyzed my right arm with his punches and the tugging and pulling in the clinch didn't improve it any.

I couldn't punch with that right arm from the eleventh round on, at least I couldn't PLACE MY PUNCHES. Without my right hand I was like a carpenter without a hammer.

Loughran is a real good boxer, a helluva boxer, and it is hard to do anything with any one who keeps going away from you.

After my eye was split in the eighth round, I was under a handicap. The blood kept trickling into the corner of my eye and it is annoying. Bill Duffy finally got it coaxed up, but then my arm went dead on me.

I'm going to stay right in the East and keep on fighting. I want to go in against Slatery or any one the fans want me to fight.

And I want to get Loughran in the ring again, just once.

Wotta Socker!

LEO LOMSKI

Coolidge Anxious To Settle Yankee Claims On Mexico

(By Universal Service)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—President Coolidge is anxious to have settled without delay the $800,000,000 in claims filed against Mexico in behalf of American citizens who were murdered, outraged or suffered the robbery of their property in Mexico.

The President's favorable attitude toward American claimants was made known at the White House today following the protest of Senator King of Utah that Mexico's long delayed in settlement is "an indefensible outrage."

President Coolidge was represented as experiencing a sympathetic feeling especially for the Americans who have lost small property holdings as the result of the Mexican revolutions or outright banditry.

He is informed that while their claims are small as compared to the aggregate of $800,000,000, they represent the life savings of American men and women who went into Mexico to assist in developing its industrial and agricultural life.

President Coolidge is informed that the claims are being marshaled as fast as possible for presentation to American-Mexican claims commission and that Mexico is willing to make compensa-

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

TOMMY LOUGHRAN PROVES HIS GREATNESS

If a fighter is knocked down and badly hurt twice in the first three minutes of a 45-minute fight, and if at the end of that fight, the fighter twice toppled is punching the other fellow with both hands without a return, you can draw one of two conclusions.

Either the bird who knocked him down is a poor fighter and could not finish his job.

Or the fighter who was knocked down is a great fighter to rally from two terrific right-hand punches and come on to win.

I doubt if any one who sat in Madison Square Garden will assert that Leo Lomski of Aberdeen, Wash., is not a real scrapper, one of the finest light-heavyweights the division has ever housed.

Concede that point, as you must, and Thomas L. Loughran of Philadelphia stands out as a great champion.

Almost before the echoes of the first bell had died away, Tommy Loughran turned a complete somersault from the effect of a whizzing right hand that Lomski drove squarely to the point of the chin.

He took the count of nine and rose, badly shaken, his legs set far apart to brace himself.

A minute later, Lomski, strong, vicious, unleashed another right-hand punch and Loughran again toppled to the canvas, apparently all in and ready for the killing. Only his heart pulled him back to his feet, for those two crumpling blows had deadened everything but Loughran's courage.

And yet, starting in the eleventh round, this figure who reeled about so crazily in the first round was making a punching bag of the youngster who had twice felled him for counts of nine.

Loughran, dazed so badly that he could not remember anything for the first five rounds, by his own admission, won eight rounds on my score sheet; four went to Lomski, and three were even. And in so doing, I think that Tommy Loughran proved himself a great champion.

He came on FROM BEHIND, and he was way behind, TO WIN. When they come from behind, they're great.

GENE TUNNEY HAD HIM DOWN, TOO

To those who do not know the ring history of Loughran, that first round was a nightmare.

Those who had seen Gene Tunney put Loughran on the floor with the first punch in their fight, and had seen Loughran regain his feet and go the route; those who had seen him floored by Pal Reed in Newark and had seen him get up and win, did not relinquish all hope.

"If he lasts the round out, he'll pull through," some one shouted behind me.

He had seen Tunney floor his son with the first punch and he knew that there was no quit in his lad's make-up.

Loughran lasted the round and he won the fight.

They say it's a wise father who knows his own son, but I think Tommy Loughran's dad knows Tommy all the way.

LOMSKI SAYS TOMMY FARELIZED HIS ARM

Lomski, in defeat, was all that Bill Duffy had touted him to be. Duffy rarely mistakes a fighter.

Duffy took the Coast youngster out to Gus Wilson's training camp and conditioned him OUTDOORS. He set him to work cutting down trees and roughing it in the open.

The Lomski who entered the ring against Loughran was as strong as a young bull. He had the power of a heavyweight in those opening rounds, and up to the tenth he was raging and tearing all over the ring.

I asked him, in his dressing room, if he had wasted too much speed in those early rounds, and if he would not have been wiser to save something for the final rounds.

"No, no, no," was his denial. "I can travel that fast all night long."

"What beat me was this:

"In the eleventh round Loughran paralyzed my RIGHT ARM with a punch, and the tugging and pulling in the clinches didn't help it any."

"From then on I could hardly use that right arm. I could punch, but I couldn't PLACE my punches. But it will be different if we meet again."

The score sheet I kept bears out Lomski's statement.

He never showed in front after the ninth round. The tenth was even and Loughran won the eleventh, twelfth, thirteenth, fourteenth and fifteenth. And in those closing rounds Lomski only used his right to pound away at the body. Either he stopped punching with the right at Loughran's head or Tommy's head kept moving out of the way.

Machine Won't Stop Perpetual Motion

BEIGRADE, Jan. 11.—Claim to have invented a perpetual motion machine has been put forth here by a young Serb, Asim Hajdarovitch. A Bosnian Mohammedan by religion, he is entirely without education, and confesses a total ignorance of physics.

Having invented his perpetual motion machine, his chief problem now is how to stop the contraption once it has been started.

The machine comprises a number of wheels with certain weights, so related that when the first wheel is started the others gradually assume a terrific speed so that various devices are necessary to stop them.

Young Hajdarovitch does not claim his machine is perfect, but he does argue it is practical. He says the idea came to him when he saw a wheel pumping water out of a well.

KLATT DELUGED BY APPLICANTS FOR HOTEL JOB

What's in a name? A lot of grief sometimes as you who read will discover.

When a ravishing blonde appeared at the office of Oscar H. Klatt, president of the American Toll-Bridge Company and announced that she was "social hostess" from Hollywood, the "boss" of the Carquinez and Antioch bridges muttered that they were not planning to use "hostesses" on either of the bridges this season and that was that.

Then came a procession. There was a man who had eight dancing divas for cabaret work, a youth with a saxophone who declared that he represented an orchestra of eight others; and a heavy-set individual who explained he was the best house detective this side of Sherlock Holmes; an information girl, three room clerks and a waiter who said he wouldn't charge for his services if he didn't have to split the tips.

"What's the idea?" demanded Klatt of George Calder, his vice-president. "Why is all this high powered talent hitting me for a job?"

So Calder took the next caller, a chef, in hand before he reached Klatt and was rewarded with a newspaper clipping reading that Oscar H. Klatt, president of the American Toll-Bridge Company and M. Carey of Oakland, has purchased a hotel in California, and were planning to make it one of the smartest hostesseries on the coast.

"I am keenly interested in the stimulation of business and real estate in the counties north of the bridges, but I'm not the Mr. Klatt who bought the hotel," explained Klatt yesterday. "It happens that there is another Oscar H. Klatt who is in an entirely different line of business. He also resides in the East Bay. And I'm being confused continually with the other 'Mr. Klatt' both by telephone and correspondence. I haven't bought a hotel. I don't contemplate buying one and my business is centered in the American Toll Bridge Company, owners and builders of the Carquinez and Antioch bridges. To those seeking Oscar H. Klatt may I urge that they get in touch with the right Mr. Klatt."

U. C. STUDENT SAYS RUM PAID WAY IN SCHOOL

Charles A. Andrews, 25, arrested Tuesday night by Richmond police on charges of illegal possession of liquor, was yesterday fined $500 with the option of 600 days in the county jail when he appeared before Police Judge C. A. Odell.

Andrews told the local police that the was a University of California student and was earning his way through school by his bootlegging operation. Following a tip from Richmond police, Emeryville authorities raided Andrews' manufacturing establishment where they found 200 gallons of alcohol, bottling an labeling machines and an indexed list of his 12,500 customers, which included several prominent Eastbay residents. ## Veterans Hear War Lecture; Attend Dinner

An illuminating address on the Battle of the Argonne and the famous Lost Battalion was delivered last night in Memorial hall by Colonel Nelson M. Holderman, commandant of the soldiers home at Yountville.

His appearance here was sponsored by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, United Spanish War Veterans, Disabled Veterans and other veteran organizations of the Richmond Allied council.

Maps hung on the wall clearly explained the various positions of the forces taking part in the battle. Preceding the address, a motion picture entitled "Captains of the Future" showing West Point and cadet drills was shown. Colonel Holderman told of the work at the soldiers home in Yountville and of the building program planned for that institution. Colonel Holderman was entertained at a dinner in the Hotel Carquinez last night. Several hundred persons including veterans and their families attended the lecture.

$10,000 Court Awards Made In Death Crash

MARTINEZ, Jan. 11.—The first default judgment ever entered in Contra Costa county in a damage suit arising from an automobile death was recorded today when Superior Judge H. V. Alvord rendered a verdict for $10,000 in a suit instituted by Mrs. Celestina Vasconcellos of Greece for the death of her husband, Joe Vasconcellos, sugar company employee at Crockett, who was killed on June 19, 1927. Vasconcellos died a few hours after a machine in which he was riding with Antonio F. Camacho, former Hayward service station proprietor, collided with a car driven by Tony Wilverio of Panoles on the state highway two miles east of Pinole.

The court's judgment runs against Camacho, who failed to answer Mrs. Vasconcellos' suit, in which she charged him with negligent driving. The court verdict, given on a plea for damages of $255,000 damages, is to be made the subject of a suit against an insurance company, in which Camacho was insured.

The court's judgment was rendered today after testimony had been given by relatives of the estate of Mrs. Vasconcellos and two children, all of whom reside in Greece. Vasconcellos, the court was informed, had been contributing $60 monthly to his family's support.

Turn Dream Tale Into Fiction At U. C. Extension

Everyone who has lived has lived short stories, dozens of them, that might have been published in a short story magazine.

But few have written compared with the millions who have dreamed. It has been because they lacked the knowledge of "how to write the acceptable story."

It has been the same with stories of travel, of news, good news for the papers. Those stories never "got over" because the one who knew them or lived them did not know how to write them.

Now the University of California Extension is arranging classes in short story writing, travel story and other types of feature story writing, and newspaper writing, to be conducted by Gilbert G. Weigle, San Francisco writer who has successfully conducted similar classes for a number of years.

The news and feature story writing classes will meet next Tuesday evening at 7 and 8 o'clock at Room 102 in the new extension building at 540 Powell street, and the short story writing classes, for beginners and advanced students, at 7 and 8 o'clock Wednesday evening. They will meet thereafter once a week.

The classes are open to the public. Interested persons are invited to visit the classes or may register now. Full particulars may be had by telephoning Kearny 100, extension headquarters.
